
Title: My Journal

Author: Lady Aileen.

MONDAY

I am beginning to share Sherry's suspicions. The strange hooded man was meeting someone in the Council chamber again. Nobody seems to know who he is. And as always, Lord Francesco has been whisked away from the, Castle by Captain Avery before the stranger's arrival. This seems a little too convenient.

FRIDAY

My efforts are paying off at last. Anselm has finally discovered more information about Soldier Brian, the traitor who killed so many of our loyal Royal Guards during the raid against the FOA in Blood Dungeon. It offends me that someone from my hometown could do such a horrible thing.

I wish I had told Anselm to meet me at my private residence rather than the Mess Hall. Fortunately, it is a short stroll from my house and hopefully no prying eyes will notice me.
